NACBA Endowment Fund Scholarship and Grant Program

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM (Maximum amount of scholarship for 2009 event/certification use is $500)

In keeping with its mission of providing resources and training to church business administrators, the National Association of Church Business Administration is offering financial assistance for professional development and training to NACBA members.

Scholarships will be available (up to a maximum of $500) for training opportunities at NACBA conferences and certification seminars.

There is a limit of one scholarship per person per calendar year.

Scholarships for individuals will be based on various factors. The Endowment Committee will review each application according to funds available and specialized need, and applicants must meet the criteria listed below:

1. Must be an Active member of NACBA.
2. Must have been an Active member of NACBA for six months before submitting application.
3. Must be a participating member of NACBA local chapter.
4. Must demonstrate a consistent Christian lifestyle.
5. Must be seeking to improve management skills.
6. Must be working for a local church which does not pay 100% of conference or certification expenses.

After an applicant for a scholarship is approved, the financial aid will be paid directly to the registrar of the conference, certification center, or local chapter workshop or seminar the applicant will be attending. We ask that you request only what you need in the amount of your scholarship. In this time of economic struggle, please be prudent with your request to permit more individuals to utilize the scholarship program.

GRANT PROGRAM (Maximum amount of grant $250.00)

As money becomes available from the Endowment Fund, other specialized areas will be considered for grants of up to $250. Grants might be used to do the following:

- Provide seed money to start new chapters and strengthen those in need.
- Send chapter president to national conference.
- Assist smaller churches without a business administrator by providing specialized training for staff members, and providing management resources.
- Provide training for NACBA national office staff.
- Increase and improve management resources, products, and services for NACBA members.
- Collect and analyze data which reveals trends related to church management.
- Improve placement and advisory services.
- Provide a specialist to research and prepare grant proposals from individuals and foundations for NACBA special projects.

APPLICATION PROCESS

To apply for a scholarship or grant, return completed application form to NACBA national office for review and approval. By November of each year, the Endowment Committee will know the amount of funds available to be awarded during the next calendar year. Even though there are certain areas of training emphasis and specific criteria required, some other requests may be considered by the committee.
